Article 3,

Jurisdictional Challenge to the prosecution/plaintiff and to the court by special appearance.

An appearance de bene esse is designed to permit a party to a proceeding to refuse to submit his/ her person to the jurisdiction of the court unless it is finally determined that he has forever waived that right. Such an appearance is therefore a special appearance designed to allow the accused to meet and discharge the contractual requirement of making an appearance, and at the same time, to refuse to submit to the jurisdiction of any alleged plaintiff (and therefore of the applicable court), unless and until some judicial department prosecutor makes all disclosures, specifically by producing a complaint of damage or injury signed and verified by the injured party.

JUDICIAL COGNIZANCE. Judicial notice, or knowledge upon which a judge is bound to act without having it proved in evidence. [Black's Law Dictionary, 5th Edition, page 760.J

The alleged Defendant, on special appearance, challenges, and demands proof of jurisdiction, appearing on the record, of the prosecution/plaintiff to file charges/suit and prosecute. And further the jurisdiction of the court, appearing on the record, in all actions against the alleged defendant.

"Court must prove on the record, all jurisdiction facts related to the jurisdiction asserted." Lantana v. Hopper, 102 F. 2d 188; Chicago v. New York 37 FSupp.150

" .[H]owever late this objection [to jurisdiction] has been made, or may be made in any cause, in an inferior or appellate court of the United States, it must be considered and decided, BEFORE any court can move ONE FURTHER STEP IN THE CAUSE; as any movement is necessarily the exercise of jurisdiction." RHODE ISLAND v. MASSACHUSETTS, 37 U.S. 657, 718, 9 L.Ed. 1233 ( 1838)

"Where a court failed to observe safeguards, it amounts to denial of due process of law, court is deprived of juris." Merritt v. Hunter, C.A. Kansas 170 F2d 739

"a universal principle as old as the law is that a proceedings of a court without jurisdiction are a nullity and its judgment therein without effect either on person or property, Norwood v. Renfield, 34 C 329; Ex parte Giambonini, 49 P. 732

Municipal Court of Los Angeles, 171 P2d 8: 331 US 549, 91 K, ed, 1666m 67 S, Ct, 1409

"A departure by a court from those recognized and established requirements of law however close apparent adherence to mere form in methods of procedure which has the effect of depriving one of a constitutional right, is an excess of jurisdiction. Wuest v. Wuest, 127 P2d 934, 937.

"A court cannot confer jurisdiction where none existed and cannot make a void proceeding valid. It is clear and well established law that a void order can be challenged in any court", OLD WAYNE MUT. L. ASSOC. v. McDONOUGH, 204 U. S. 8, 27 S. Ct. 236 (1907)

"The burden shifts to the court to prove jurisdiction." Rosemond v. Lambert, 469 F 2d 416

"When a judge acts where he or she does not have jurisdiction to act, the judge is engaged in an act or acts of treason."

Tennessee Coal, Iron & R. Co. v. George, 233 U.S. 354 (1914) "the right to sue depends, venue is no part of a right, and whether jurisdiction exists is to be determined by the law of the state creating the court in which the case is tried. A state cannot create a transitory cause of action and at the same time destroy the right to sue thereon in any court having jurisdiction although in another state."

FOR THE RECORD

Purgatory oath

For the record, I swear before my creator that I am innocent of the charges brought forth against my person.

"A purgatory oath refers to an oath by which a man destroys the presumptions which were against him/her. Such a person is said to purge himself/herself when she/he removes the suspicions which were against him/her. For example, if a person faces contempt for not attending court as a witness, she. he may purge himself/ herself of the contempt by swearing to a fact which is ample excuse."

A purgatory oath allows defendants to obtain an acquittal by swearing to their own innocence. [United States v. Gecas, 120 F.3d 1419, 1438 (11th Cir. Fla"]

NOTICE of JURISDICTION CHALLENGED
MANDATORY ELEMENTS OF JURISDICTION PRESENTED
PROSECUTION AND THE COURT IS TO PROVE JURISDICTION IN LIGHT OF THE FOLLOWING.

THIS IS NOT A MOTION

1. Proof of jurisdiction, appearing on the record that the defendants are subject to commercial law and or the Uniform Commercial Code in light of the following.

Let it be known to all that I, louis delynn hansen explicitly reserves all of my rights.

Performance or Acceptance Under Reservation of Rights.

(a) A party that with explicit reservation of rights performs or promises performance or assents to performance in a manner demanded or offered by the other party does not thereby prejudice the rights reserved. Such words as "without prejudice, "under protest," or the like are sufficient."

I retain all of my rights and liberties at all times and in all places, nun pro tunc (now for then) from the time of my birth and forevermore. Further, I, retain my rights not to be compelled to perform under any contract or commercial agreement that we did not enter knowingly, voluntarily and intentionally. And furthermore, I do not accept the liability of the compelled benefit of any unrevealed contract or commercial agreement. I am not ever subject to silent contracts and have never knowingly or willingly contracted away my sovereignty.

2. Proof of jurisdiction, appearing on the record, of "facts necessary to give jurisdiction". See ...

"if the record does not show upon its face the facts necessary to give jurisdiction, they will be presumed not to have existed." Norman v. Zieber, 3 Or at 202-03

3. Proof of jurisdiction, appearing on the record.
See...

"The law requires proof of jurisdiction to appear on the record of the administrative agency and all administrative proceedings." Hagans v Lavine 415 U.S. 533.

4. Proof of jurisdiction, appearing on the record that the court and the prosecution/plaintiff can defraud by silence. See...

U.S. v. Tweel, 550 F.2d.297. "Silence can only be equated with fraud where there is a legal or moral duty to speak or when an inquiry left unanswered would be intentionally misleading."

Also see...

"Knowing failure to disclose material information necessary to prevent statement from being misleading, or making representation despite knowledge that it has no reasonable basis in fact, are actionable as fraud under law."

Rubinstein v. Collins, 20 F.3d 160, 1990

5. Proof of jurisdiction, appearing on the record, to deny the defendant remedy. See...

Von Hoffman v. City of Quincy, 71 U.S. 4 Wall. 535 535 (1866) Page 71 U. S. 551 "Nothing can be more material to the obligation than the means of enforcement. Without the remedy, the contract may, indeed, in the sense of the law, be said not to exist, and its obligation to fall within the class of those moral and social duties which depend for their fulfillment wholly upon the will of the individual. The ideas of validity and remedy are inseparable, and both are parts of the obligation, which is guaranteed by the Constitution against invasion. The obligation of a contract "is the law which binds the parties to perform their agreement."

to force the defendant into involuntary servitude. See..

UNITED STATES V. KOZMINSKI, 487 U. S. 931 (1988) "For purposes of criminal prosecution under § 241 or § 1584, the term "involuntary servitude" necessarily means a condition of servitude in which the victim is forced to work for the defendant by the use or threat of physical restraint or physical injury or by the use or threat of coercion through law or the legal process. This definition encompasses cases in which the defendant holds the victim in servitude by placing him or her in fear of such physical restraint or injury or legal coercion."

A person is here not a physical or individual person, but the status or condition with which he is invested ... not an individual or physical person, but the status, condition or character borne by physical persons ... The law of persons is the law of status or condition."

9. Proof of jurisdiction appearing on the record, in consideration of the defendants' citizenship.

I, louis delynn hansen am not a United States corporation citizen or a 14th amendment citizen. I am a "state" Citizen of one of the several states of the Republic, and not as a State of the United States ® exercising such powers as other nations of the earth are accustomed to... I take leave to say that, if the principles thus announced should ever receive the sanction of a majority of this court, a radical and mischievous change in our system will result. We will,

in that event, pass from the era of constitutional liberty guarded and protected by a written constitution* into an era of legislative absolutism... It will be an evil day for American Liberty if the theory of a government outside the Supreme Law of the Land finds lodgment in our Constitutional Jurisprudence. The court held in UNITED STATES v. KOZMINSKI, 487 U.S. 931 (1988) by looking to the meaning of the Thirteenth Amendment in interpreting two enforcement statutes, one prohibiting conspiracy to interfere with exercise or enjoyment of constitutional rights, the other prohibiting the holding of a person in a condition of involuntary servitude. For purposes of prosecution under these authorities, the Court held, the term 'involuntary servitude' necessarily means a condition of servitude in which the victim is forced to work for the defendant by the use or threat of physical restraint or physical injury, or by the use or threat of coercion through law or the legal process.

32. Proof of jurisdiction, appearing on the record, to deny the people or the defendants sovereignty.

YICK WO v. HOPKINS, 118 U.S. 356 (1886) held: "When we consider the nature and the theory of our institutions of government, the principles upon which they are sup- [118 U.S. 356, 370] posed to rest, and review the history of their development, we are constrained to conclude that they do not mean to leave room for the play and action of purely personal and arbitrary power. "[S]overeignty itself is, of course, not subject to law, for it is the author and source of law; but in our system, while sovereign powers are delegated to the agencies of government, sovereignty itself remains with the people, by whom and for whom all government exists and acts. And the law is the definition and limitation of power. It is indeed quite true that there must always be lodged somewhere and in some person or body the authority of final decision; and in many cases of mere administration the responsibility is purely political no appeal lying except to the ultimate tribunal of the public judgment exercised either in the pressure of opinion or by means of the suffrage. But the fundamental rights to life liberty and the pursuit of happiness considered as individual possessions are secured by those maxims of constitutional law which are the monuments showing the victorious progress of the race in securing to men the blessings of civilization under the reign of just and equal laws so that in the famous language of the Massachusetts bill of rights the government of the commonwealth 'may be a government of laws and not of men.' For the very idea that one man may be compelled to hold his life or the means of living or any material right essential to the enjoyment of life at the mere will of another seems to be intolerable in any country where freedom prevails as being the essence of slavery itself'.

When a Citizen challenges the acts of a federal or state official as being illegal that official cannot just simply avoid liability based upon the fact that he is a public official. In United States v. Lee 106 U.S. 196 220 221 S.Ct. 240 261 the United States claimed title to Arlington Lee's estate via a tax sale some years earlier held to be void by the Court. In so voiding the title of the United States the Court declared:

"No man in this country is so high that he is above the law. No officer of the law may set that law at defiance with impunity. All the officers of the government from the highest to the lowest are creatures of the law and are bound to obey it. It is the only supreme power in our system of government and every man who by accepting office participates in its functions is only the more strongly bound to submit to that supremacy, and to observe the limitations which it imposes upon the exercise of the authority which it gives.

"Shall it be said... that the courts cannot give remedy when the citizen has been deprived of his property by force, his estate seized and converted to the use of the government without any lawful authority, without any process of law, and without any compensation, because the president has ordered it and his officers are in possession? If such be the law of this country, it sanctions a tyranny which has no existence in the monarchies of Europe, nor in any other government which has a just claim to well-regulated liberty and the protection of personal rights."
